RESTORE + CONNECT + INNOVATE

20TH ANNUAL CONFERENCE
FEBRUARY 23-25, 2022
GRAND JUNCTION, CO

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Partner with us at the leading restoration conference in the West.

Since 2001, RiversEdge West has been conducting riparian restoration research and management conferences with a focus on impacts to riverside habitat in the arid western U.S. These gatherings are driven by RiversEdge West's commitment to advance the knowledge and practice of riparian restoration.

The primary goal of REW's annual conference is to share the latest scientific findings in the field of riparian restoration with practitioners, students, and researchers alike. Additionally, the conference serves to connect the people managing impacted lands with the techniques, findings, and products that help make restoration successful. This venue also serves as a valuable networking opportunity to build relationships that foster innovation, collaboration, new projects, and advance research.

Your sponsorship will directly support all aspects of the conference: from scholarships for students and networking events to the cost of facility rental and meals.

"The Riparian Restoration Conference is one of the most informative and useful conferences I have ever attended in my career in that it brings together scientists, resource managers, and practitioners with ample opportunity to share and discuss information, goals, and methods across a broad range of relevant topics."
